

BACK TO NATURE

Full-Service Design and Construction

We pride ourselves on providing every aspect of deck and structure construction required by the most demanding customer. From deck planning and design to site selection to choice of materials and amenities (lighting, hot tubs, railing, benches, and more) as well as maintenance requirements, we work closely with our customers to ensure you get exactly what you want.

Your One Source for Outdoor Structures

Our craftsmanship extends to much more than decks. Look to Back to Nature for the finest design and construction in arbors, gazebos, porches, screen rooms, and sun rooms, too.

No matter what kind of structure or carpentry you need to enhance your outdoor lifestyle, we provide finished products of the highest quality at competitive prices.

Master Carpenter Michael Ebner & Back to Nature: Outdoor Living Specialists

With more than thirty years of experience, Back to Nature has the skill and background to help you maximize your outdoor lifestyle — and your budget. From classically simple, beautiful wood decks to cutting-edge styles featuring state-of-the-art amenities and ultra-low maintenance composite materials, Back to Nature has the vision, expertise, and integrity demanding customers want. Don't settle for less!

Thinking Green? So Are We.

Going green is much more complex than it was even three or four years ago.

Today, the choice of materials for the environmentally sensitive customer includes both composite and natural materials. Green manufacturing processes, longer materials lifespan, and lower maintenance characteristics actually make man-made materials the right choice for some designs.

From our standpoint, it's much more than just the materials, as well. Our industry-leading preparation, cleanup, and recycling standards complete the equation. We're the perfect partner for the green conscious customer.
